

Colette Carlson, MA Intro

Colette Carlson is a funny, Human Behavior Expert who motivates thousands worldwide revealing the power of Speaking Your Truth! Only by telling the truth on herself was she able to overcome her own fears and addictions that kept her 50 lbs. overweight and making underwhelming choices.

Whether she's opening for Suze Orman in a crowd of 3,500, being featured in Success or Working Mother Magazine, speaking for Microsoft, Boeing, Cisco and Pepsi, or showing up in two newly released motivational movies, Colette brings her wit and wisdom to every audience.

Starting out as an administrative assistant, she took the leap into straight commission sales while working for legends Tom Hopkins and Brian Tracy, which led to her becoming a National Sales Trainer for US West. In the midst of raising her two daughters, Colette went back to night school to earn her Masters in Human Behavior which certainly helps now that they're teenagers!

You're in for a treat today. Please help me welcome, Colette Carlson
